EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1> An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview and facsimile communication with Victoria Donnelly on June 21, 2007.

2> The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 38 :

An apparatus for policing transfer of packets, each packet belonging to one of a plurality of traffic classes where each traffic class is allocated a respective committed information rate, said apparatus comprising:

a cascade of policers having a one-to-one correspondence to said traffic classes,

a first policer ~~for identifying~~ of said cascade of policers identifies packets of a first traffic class from among said plurality of traffic classes, which packets conform to a first committed information rate, as conforming packets; and

~~at least one successive policer,~~ wherein each successive policer of said cascade of policers:

receives a combination of arriving packets of a corresponding traffic class and conforming packets identified by all preceding policers; and identifies conforming packets of said corresponding traffic class which packets of said corresponding traffic class together with said conforming packets identified by all preceding policers, conform to a sum of committed information rates of all preceding traffic classes and a committed information rate of said corresponding traffic class.

Claim 52:

An apparatus for policing packets of a plurality of traffic classes of a service, said traffic classes arranged in a predetermined order, said apparatus comprising:

a first policer assigned a policer service rate equal to a pre-assigned service rate of a first traffic class of said plurality of traffic classes; and a plurality of succeeding policers each succeeding policer allocated to a corresponding traffic class and assigned a respective policer service rate determined as a sum of a pre-assigned service rate of said corresponding traffic class and a policer service rate of an immediately preceding policer, wherein:

said first policer marks packets of said first traffic class, which packets conform to said pre-assigned service rate of said first traffic class, to produce an output of said first policer comprising packets marked as conforming packets; and wherein said each policer:

combines packets of said corresponding traffic class with packets marked as conforming packets at outputs of all preceding policers including said first policer to produce a cumulative packet flow; and determines conformance of said cumulative packet flow to said respective policer service rate; and marks packets of said corresponding traffic class as conforming packets, to produce an output comprising packets marked as conforming packets, according to said conformance of said cumulative packet flow.

~~marks packets of said corresponding traffic class, which packets together packets marked as conforming packets at outputs of all preceding policers including said first policer conform to said respective policer service rate, to produce an output of said each succeeding policer comprising packets marked as conforming packets.~~

3> The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: In the non-final rejection filed on January 26, 2007, the examiner indicated that there was allowable subject matter in the preamble of claims 38 and 52. Applicant amended these claims pursuant to this indication but failed to incorporate all of the limitations of the preamble. The purpose of this examiner's amendment was to incorporate these missing limitations that had been previously indicated as allowable and to clarify some limitations.

As to the reasons for allowance: the configuration of multiple policers in series whereby each policer (beside the first) receives as inputs the results (conforming packets) of every preceding policer and packets corresponding to each policer's assigned traffic class is unique (and is not recited in other claims)

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
